Stricken Bali Appeals For Help

Deluge Of Lava From Eruptions Stops As Deaths Mount To 1,100

DENPASAR, Bali (AP) — The deluge of lava from sacred Agung volcano was reported to have stopped today after five days of eruption. The governor of Bali said at least 1,100 islanders have perished.

"We have 75,000 homeless people to feed at this point, and we need help from everybody," said Gov. Anak Agung Sutadja.

He said another 200,000 may have lost their livelihood. Thousands of acres of once-fertile rice-land lay beneath tons of lava and ash that have blanketed Bali's northeast coast.

An estimated 100,000 Balinese were fleeing the stricken area. Riding and afoot, they carried what possessions they could as they tried to get away from the 10,308-foot volcano which erupted briefly in February after years of virtual quiet, then went into violent action Sunday.

Reports from the disaster area said a heavy column of smoke still billowed from the crater.

A civil defense spokesman in Jakarta said earlier that more violent eruptions were feared, and authorities were trying to clear about 250,000 persons from a radius of 20 miles around the volcano.

A mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke could be seen from aircraft flying into Denpasar, but no ash was visible in this capital, about 70 miles southwest of Gunung (Mount) Agung.

Many foreign tourists were on the island, but all were believed safe. Most of them are staying in Denpasar.

Agung awoke with a roar last month. Its first eruption killed 17 people.

Last Sunday it came back with a second explosion, pushing lava down its slopes and burying hundreds of people under a deadly umbrella of searing ash. The governor said most people were killed by the ash cloud. He said the temperature of the ash was 230 degrees.

People who survived the holocaust at 7 a.m. Sunday said it became as dark as night for two minutes, and the ash choked almost everything.

The governor said hundreds were roasted alive in three villages just south of the mountain as they knelt in prayer.

Travelers returning from the area in Bali's northeast reported survivors said many priests and their disciples refused to leave their villages despite the danger.

The governor said many people died in this way in the villages of Sebudi, Sorgah and Sebih.

The deeply religious Balinese—whose life centers on devotion to a mixture of Hinduism and Buddhism—believe that Gunung Agung is the seat of the gods. To many of them the eruption was a signal the deities were angry.

Denpasar Hospital treated eight patients, all first to third degree burns, mostly on their feet—a result of walking through blazing ash.

There was little indication here in the island capital of the disaster in the northeastern corner of this tropic paradise, famed as a tourist mecca. Heavy rain—blamed by some people here on the heat rising from the volcano—pelted the town Thursday.

Most of northeast Bali was put off limits to unofficial visitors. Police and troops manned roadblocks on major routes leading into the area. Many northeast towns have been evacuated.

The sacred temple of Besakih on the slope of Agung was reported to have escaped damage.

Besakih is the scene of a festival, held every 100 years to purify the island of roaming ghosts, when Agung erupted. Many islanders believe the gods of the volcano were angry because the people had failed to ask their permission to hold the festival.

Agung is part of a chain of volcanic peaks stretching across the Indonesian Archipelago. It lies some 600 miles to the east of the scene of one of the most catastrophic eruptions ever recorded.

In 1883, the volcanic islet of Krakatoa erupted in the Sunda Strait, causing tidal waves that killed 35,000 people throughout the islands. Dust clouds from the eruption were seen round the world.

Kennedy Estimates 3,000 Red Troops Pulled From Cuba

Expresses Hopes More Leave Soon

Reads Statement On His Three-Day Talks In San Jose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says the Soviets have withdrawn some 3,000 troops from Cuba in recent weeks—and he hopes this is only a starter. Kennedy told his news conference Thursday that "we are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope." But he said the scope of the withdrawal would not be fairly evident until the end of March.

When the Soviet Union promised last month to withdraw several thousand troops from Cuba by mid-March, the U.S. government estimated Soviet military and technical personnel in Cuba totaled about 17,000.

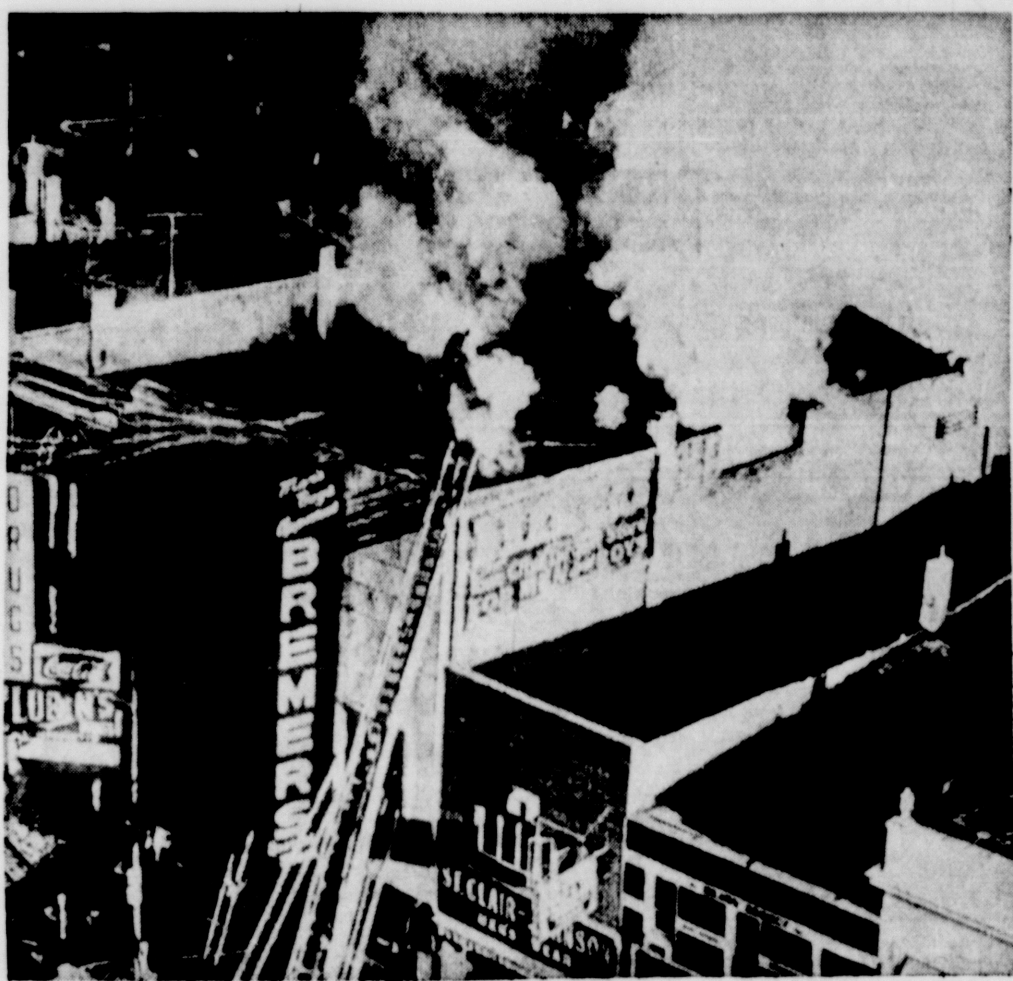

Kennedy opened the conference by reading a four-minute statement on this three days of talks this week at San Jose, Costa Rica, with the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

Said the President, who flew back to Washington late Wednesday:

"I return from San Jose with increased confidence that we will continue to live in a hemisphere of independent, firm and faithful friends."

Noting that this was his third trip south of the border, Kennedy said that each one makes it clear that Latin Americans "by an overwhelming majority, are ready to work to sacrifice, to fight if necessary."

Kennedy 'The Referee'

Sends Both Sides To Corners In TFX Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—With kind words for both sides, President Kennedy has stepped in between senators and defense officials battling over the TFX warplane probe.

In so many words Thursday he told the Pentagon to wait in a neutral corner for the investigation's outcome which he said would provide that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was right in awarding the big contract to General Dynamics Corp.

"I see nothing wrong with Congress looking at these matters," the President told his news conference. "My judgment is that the decision reached by Secretary McNamara was the right one, sound one, and any fair and objective hearing will bring that out."

And, he added later, "I assume that the McClellan committee, on which I once served, will render a fair judgment."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., hailed Kennedy's words as fair and "nice."

The subcommittee is investigating whether influence was a factor in the Pentagon's award of the contract for the TFX—experimental tactical fighter—to General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex., over a lower rival bid by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash.

The $24-million contract covers the start of work on the plane, an all-purpose fighter-bomber to be used by both Air Force and Navy. Eventually 1,700 of the planes will be built at an estimated cost of $6.5 billion.

Kennedy's statement was oil on troubled waters, but only time would tell if he calmed them.

Before he spoke to newsmen these developments had added to the storm.

The Defense Department leaked to newsmen a memorandum protesting that the subcommittee's investigators had subjected Air Force employees to "oral abuse and pressure tactics" smacking of gestapo tactics.

Jerome Adelman, subcommittee counsel, fired back that the charge was false and designed to harass one of his aides who, Adelman said, had uncovered "enormous errors" in figures the Defense Department used to justify its award of the contract.

The Senate itself got into a boiling debate over the Air Force memorandum with McClellan rejecting its charges and caustically declaring he would call off the hearings if the Senate would pass a resolution ordering him to "cease and desist."

Hot words flew in the hearing room itself as the subcommittee received testimony first from Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric, then from McNamara himself.

The secretary went into the hearing room armed with suitcases crammed with documents. He elaborated on a sworn statement he had submitted last week, was asked a few questions, and then released pending recall for lengthy questioning after the subcommittee has compiled the rest of its evidence. A transcript of his testimony was to be released, possibly after being censored, later in the day.

Aside from the rows, the investigation has centered on the question of why General Dynamics won the contract.

Testimony has been introduced that military boards had picked the Boeing proposals promising the cheaper and better plane but were overruled by the civilian secretaries.

In his statement, McNamara said the General Dynamics plan would use more of the same components for both Air Force and Navy versions of the TFX, thus saving more money.

The Pentagon leaked the critical Air Force memorandum as Gilpatric was striving to calm subcommittee anger over an anonymous Pentagon spokesman's weekend statement to newsmen charging that Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and McClellan had maneuvered the department into an unfavorable position in the hearings.

Fire Destroys Burgettstown High School

BURGETTSTOWN — Defective wiring was blamed on a fire that swept the Union High School here late Thursday, and Principal R. Donald Hall who described the 45-year-old brick building as "a total loss," estimated the damages at $250,000 to $300,000.

Firemen prevented spread of the flames to the adjoining Hillcrest Presbyterian Church and other nearby buildings, including the school shops, music room, home economics building and bus garage.

State Assigns Staff Of 6 To Aid Assessor

Anderson Will Use Hancock Clerks To Speed Tax Figures

The Hancock County assessor's office, vacated Tuesday by a resignation and dismissal of almost an entire staff, was manned today by six workers from the office of State Tax Commissioner G. Thomas Battle.

The Courthouse in New Cumberland hummed with the click of scores of typewriters and adding machines as the state tax chief's aides began the job of catching up on setting tax assessments for 1963.

Arnold F. Anderson, named new county assessor Wednesday to succeed Anthony (Tony) Leon, said he planned to continue work tonight by augmenting the working staff with clerks employed in the Courthouse.

"We'll do our best to get the job finished by the end of the week," Anderson said this morning.

Battle apparently dispatched six aides to the county to assist the new assessor in bringing assessments on real estate up to 40 per cent of the appraisal values compiled in a survey by Cole, Lyster & Trumble of Dayton.

Their aim apparently is to hike tax assessments by $19 million for the 1963 fiscal year, providing additional revenue.

Board Slates Late Hours In Voter Signup

The County Election Board's office on W. 6th St. will operate on a 12-hour schedule Monday through Wednesday, giving East Liverpool's unqualified voters an extra opportunity to register for the May 7 primaries before the deadline Wednesday at 9 p.m.

The board's office opposite City Hall will be open continually from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each of the three days. Lunch and dinner hours of the staff will be staggered to permit the continual operation.

The extended schedule was arranged to give East Liverpool voters every opportunity to qualify before the deadline, the staff explained.

The board launched a drive more than a week ago to remind unqualified voters of the registration deadline. However, the response has been "almost nil," the staff commented today.

Limited interest in the primaries has been blamed at least in part for the small response. However, the board generally experiences a rush in the last day of registration.

The city's registration total was out to about 8,000 on Jan. 1 when the board completed its annual year-end check, eliminating the names of those who had failed to vote at least once in the preceding two years or take some other action that would keep their record on an active status.

Tragic, Hunted Exile

Bidault To Face 3 Choices Soon

STEINERBACH, Germany (AP) — Georges Bidault gives the impression of a tragic, hunted exile with little prospect except political oblivion.

He is wanted by the French government and unwanted by his unwilling protectors in Germany. Bidault faces three choices within a few days. None of them gives him much hope of regaining the stature he once had as a distinguished French leader.

He can remain in Germany and give up political activity against his former friend and present enemy, Charles de Gaulle. If he stays, he will have to abandon in fact—even if not in name—the leadership he claims to have over the movement to overthrow De Gaulle.

He can allow himself to be deported from Germany. In this case, he may, like certain members of the terrorist French Secret Army, find himself wandering from country to country, seeking a refuge where he might operate in the open against his adversary.

Or he can decide to try to escape German police, flee Germany, and resume his clandestine wanderings about Europe. He would have to enter another country illegally and would be hunted by French secret agents.

Bidault says he leads the Council of National Resistance, an organization regarded as the political arm of the secret army which has tried to assassinate De Gaulle. He is charged in France with being a member of a clandestine organization which has been ordered dissolved because it is plotting against the security of the state. This is not a capital offense. He has not been accused of trying to kill De Gaulle, a crime punishable by death.

Bidault has been under German police guard since he was discovered 12 days ago living with two German journalists in a hilltop villa in this Bavarian village.

He has had no rendezvous with anybody not allowed by the police.

If there still are CNR or secret army men in Bavaria, they apparently have had no direct contact with Bidault since he was found.

Correspondents who have seen Bidault here get the impression that he may have become only a figurehead in the organizations.

Bidault is a former premier and a former foreign minister of France. He headed the wartime resistance against the Nazis while De Gaulle was out of the country. As such, he still has appeal to numerous Frenchmen.

But active leadership of the CNR may have passed elsewhere—perhaps to Jacques Soustelle, another former minister in De Gaulle's government, who is reported hiding in Portugal. Soustelle is a younger, more energetic man.

The Bavarian government says a final decision on Bidault will come this weekend or early next week.

Bill Proposes Cities Share Tax Proceeds

Other Subdivisions Would Get Split In Non-Resident Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Mount Gilead Republican legislator has introduced a bill to require cities levying income taxes to share the proceeds with other subdivisions in cases where the taxpayer is a non-resident.

Rep. Dale G. Hildebrand, R-Morrow, wants a 50-50 split if the non-resident taxpayer lives in another city. If he lives in a township or unincorporated village, 30 per cent would go to the place of residence and 20 per cent to the county.

The Hildebrand bill, introduced just before legislators ended their 11th work week Thursday, is another chapter in a running financial feud between income-tax cities and communities which do not have such a levy.

During the legislative week, the two houses topped the 1,000 mark on bill introductions and the end is not in sight. With 1,036 proposed laws already on hand—268 in the Senate and 770 in the House—there is no indication when the House will impose a deadline. The deadline originally was set for March 18, but then it was abandoned.

The unexpected finally happened shortly before the weekend recess—the Senate defeated a bill, the first of the session.

The bill, which would have permitted appointment of local boards of trustees for state university branches, got 14 yes votes to 12 no, but 17 votes are required to pass a bill in the Senate—a majority of members elected to the 33-member body.

It appeared likely majority Republicans would make an effort at next week's sessions to revive the measure when full GOP attendance is on hand. Four Republicans were absent Thursday. One of the bill's sponsors, Sen. Ross Peppie, R-Allen, voted against the bill in an apparent effort to be in a parliamentary position to move for reconsideration next week.

After the bill's defeat, Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, yanked a companion

Colder Weather Due; River Continues Fall

Colder temperatures are heading for the East Liverpool area as the Ohio River continues to recede after cresting above flood stage as another aspect of the mixed March weather.

The Ohio weatherman said the mercury will dip to 18 to 25 degrees tonight although Saturday will be fair and warmer. The downtown had a chilly 27 at 6 a. m. and there were frequent snow flurries this morning. The day's high will be 34 to 38.

The river had dropped to 31.8 feet at the Stratton Dam and to 26.2 at the Montgomery Island Dam at Ohio View at 8 a. m. today. This was about 5 to 6 feet under the crests of Thursday morning.

As the water receded, the River Rd. was opened to traffic again yesterday afternoon.

Last Of Prisoners Shipped Ashore

Alcatraz Guard Towers
Empty-No One To Guard

ALCATRAZ, Calif. (AP)—The guard towers of Alcatraz were empty today for the first time in 29 years. There was no one to guard.

The last 27 of the 1,576 to serve time since 1934 on the 12½-acre island, as the nation's toughest convicts, were shipped ashore Thursday and sent by plane to other mainland prisons. Guards took them away, handcuffed and shackled.

Today the fourth and last warden of "The Rock," Olin C. Blackwell, turned with his staff of 130 to the job of shutting down the island after 113 years of operation as a federal fort, military and civilian prison.

By July 1, the former prison will be ready for possible turnover to the General Services Administration as surplus.

Maybe it will become a park for tourists; maybe an offshore restaurant and night club within sight of the famed Golden Gate. Nobody really knows now.

California's U.S. senators and representatives seek creation of a presidential commission to decide the island's future. San Francisco Mayor George Christopher wants tourists to be able to tour the buildings for a time. Then he proposes a fitting statue as large as the Statue of Liberty.

"The prison help is being relocated," said Fred T. Wilkinson, associate director of the Bureau of Prisons.

"A few are eligible to retire. Some want other jobs so they can stay in San Francisco. But many are going to other prisons. We expect some to wind up in the new maximum security prison we're opening a little later this year at Marion, Ill."

"I'm going to miss The Rock," Warden Blackwell said.

ial will be in St. Patrick's Church Cemetery.

He was born here April 11, 1886, to the late Thomas Murray and Frances Murray, and worked in various potteries before retiring.

He was a member of St. Patrick's church, Salineville Council 2389 of Knights of Columbus and the church's Holy Name Society. He was an honorary member of the IBOP.

He leaves a sister, Miss Agnes Murray at home.

Friends may call Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon and evening at the Kerr Funeral Home, where the Rosary will be recited Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

LISBON—A total of 136 children were examined and received immunizations at pre-school clinics held this week at four county buildings, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

The program included: No. 16 School, Monday, six children; United Local, Tuesday, 76 children; Salineville, Wednesday, 30, and West Point, Thursday, 24.

In addition to the examinations, the department administered immunizations, vaccinations and polio shots.

A schedule for next week's pre-school clinics includes: Monday, Calcutta; Tuesday, Rogers; Wednesday, Elkton, and Thursday, Lisbon.

Both Drivers Cited
In Rear-End Collision

Two area drivers were cited Thursday night by the Ohio Highway Patrol after one man's car rammed the rear of the other's, which was parked partially on Route 7 about a mile north of Rogers.

Officers at the Lisbon post said a car operated by Keith Clutter, 19, of R. D. 2 hit the rear of a stopped auto owned by James Trotter, 21, of R. D. 3, which was parked partly on the roadway on a curve.

Trotter told officers he had halted to look for a hubcap. His car received excessive damage, officers reported, while Clutter's car had minor damage.

Trotter was cited for illegal parking on the highway and Clutter was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Work To Open April 1
On Salem's New Span

SALEM—Work is expected to start April 1 on the planned Route 62 overhead span at the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. crossing on W. State St., the A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown, contractors for the $673,000 project announced.

Initial work will be construction of access roads, establishment of detours and relocation of utilities. Pile driving for pier foundations will begin in about two months. The 538-foot-long structure is designed to eliminate traffic congestion caused by trains.

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Mothers Committee, which annually chooses the Mother of the Year, held a home canning recipe contest and offered the winner 500,000 trading stamps (Plaid), good for a round-trip to Hawaii or a mink stole.

The winner, Mrs. Dorothy L. Simon of Buffalo, N. Y., who won with a recipe for dietetic chili sauce, passed up the glamorous awards and chose kitchen and household items instead.

If They Want To Cut Spending

If congressmen really want to cut down federal spending — instead of just talking about it — there would seem to be two effective ways in which to do it.

One would be to go over spending by specific departments, and find ways to reduce appropriations.

The other would be to stop, in the beginning, the setting up of new federal programs in new spending fields.

If departmental spending is to be reduced, the first opening would be the Defense Department.

Yet almost any spending proposal in that department seems assured of congressional approval. This is a reflection of the determination of the nation to keep its defenses the strongest in the world.

THE ONE member of President Kennedy's Cabinet diligently trying to prevent waste of public funds on military equipment is Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

Yet he is the one Cabinet member who is mercilessly under fire.

The reason for this attack has many sides. One is that he is doing what the head of the Defense Department is supposed to do, that is, retain complete civilian control over the military, headquartered in the Pentagon. His efforts there stir up two powerful antagonisms.

One stems from the particular branch of service, Army, Navy, Air Force, which believes its pet projects are being done away with.

Another is that any attack upon defense spending has an instant economic effect, for the worse, on congressional districts and states which stand to lose military contracts.

MR. McNAMARA'S saving efforts first have had to do with routine matters, such as purchasing policies and the like, and from changes here he hopes to save a billion dollars a year.

His other saving efforts have dealt with the curtailment or cancelling of orders for specific military weapons. In these areas he has run into a peck of trouble.

Just what are the weapons involved and what are the savings Mr. McNamara's plan would achieve?

James Reston, chief of the New York Times Washington bureau, points out, that Congress seems to feel Secretary McNamara, who cut the defense budget nearly $10 billion, wants to spend too little. The secretary's emphasis is on combat-ready weapons, at the expense of exotic weapons that never have come close to promised performance.

One can get into endless debates on the value of the various items the defense secretary is eliminating — the RS-70 is an example, one that Congress persists in insisting upon.

But what is evident here is a serious block to substantial saving.

Part of the trouble is, of course, the threatened loss of industry and employment.

Part of it is congressional determination to hold on to industrial contracts and jobs.

Part of it is due to genuine disagreement among various branches of the Defense Department.

IF THE Defense Department has been motivated by politics in the awarding of any contracts, as many critics insist, it is an art practiced much more skillfully by congressmen, themselves, in pulling, tugging — and even slugging — to gain and keep lucrative defense business for their districts and states.

And part may be due to that factor in our economy which moved Mr. Eisenhower, in his farewell address as President, to warn against the conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry, "a possible danger to the liberties of democratic processes."

"We must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence . . . by the military-industrial complex," he warned, because the "potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power" existed there.

The Button Labeled Berlin

Our officials in Washington are reported to be puzzled by Premier Khrushchev's decision to reopen the Berlin issue at this time.

That's funny. It's not puzzling anyone else.

All the rest of us know why the issue has been reopened. It's because Premier Khrushchev needs something to talk about.

It is as though he had a panel in his Kremlin office with rows of buttons labeled "Berlin," "Peking," "NATO," "Central America," "South America"—all the hot spots.

Not a day must be permitted to pass without at least one button being pushed, or kept pushed. Something must be going on all the time.

This is partly to have something to talk about at home, but mostly to make sure the non-Communist world has something to worry about.

It gives Communism a reputation for being dynamic, instead of static.

It keeps the Western World on the defensive. All the West has time to do is react, following the latest Communist provocation.

Many observers have wished the Western World had a row of buttons that would put Premier Khrushchev and his people on the defensive and keep them there.

Actually, this should be easy because circumstances keep them on the defensive most of the time anyway. That's another reason for the Kremlin buttons—to keep the non-Communist world from being aware of how many problems never have been solved in the Communist world.

So it's the Berlin button again. Ho-hum.

Latin America Market Plan

In the long view, the important thing about the European Common Market is not what it did for the six European countries involved in it but what it can do for any group of countries that might try the same thing.

The core of a hemispheric common market of immense importance to the United States is growing in Central America. That is why President Kennedy would prefer to talk about economic development while he is meeting with the chiefs of six Central American governments in San Jose, Costa Rica.

Costa Rica, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua constitute the organization of Central American States — the Central American "Common Market."

Internal trade among them has jumped nearly 30 per cent since they organized late in 1960. Expansion is still going forward. The potentialities of the Central American market are attracting promoters from all over the world. Japan is interested. The United States, of course, has the greatest reason to be interested because of its investments in industries scheduled for expansion.

A still larger trade association includes Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru and Uruguay. Eventual association of this group with the Central American group can be expected—a giant market with potentialities as exciting as those of the European Common Market.

Among the potentialities is the same political unification that is the most exciting potentiality of the European Common Market. The United States of North America might have its counterpart in Central and South America.

The same miracle that gave the United States the highest standard of living and has revealed such exciting possibilities in Europe might relieve the traditional poverty of Latin America. By protecting internal industries with tariffs against damaging competition—the formula that President William McKinley advocated for the development of the United States, the new groups, too, may raise their standards of living.

Just Average

There is the usual snuffing and snuffling about the failure of Spring to come up to expectations. Spring isn't to blame.

Expectations are to blame. They are unrealistic.

All that Spring means is the beginning of a season when day and night are equal. Nothing is said about decent weather.

The only improvement that can be expected is due to the probability the earth will grow warmer as more sunlight is added, up to the solstice in the last part of June, when Summer begins officially.

But better weather is not a shoo-in.

But even though it varies as wildly as the length of women's skirts, there is one good thing about it.

In a lifetime, as far as an individual is concerned, the weather averages out in a characteristic pattern. This is important. It can be important to you now if you feel yourself slipping into March madness.

Whatever happens day to day, week to week and month to month is an essential part of a long-range average. This helps to shake off the sense of persecution that fastens itself to many people in springtime.

Bad weather is part of the over-all picture? Understand?

There will be a few nice days in March. There will be nice days in April, along with the days when sleet, rain and snow will make conditions miserable.

The same will be true of May and June.

A few years ago on the occasion of a class reunion, the lady classmate all of us boys wanted to take with us to a South Sea island asked to be escorted from the airport when she flew in from New York.

She had never married, she said. Buckity, buckity I had the idea of an outdoor luncheon in RED before we set off to touch up old acquaintances at Alma Mater. It so happened everybody but me was away at the time. Ummin.

Ah June, ah old flame, ah Smoky the Bear, ah wilderness . . .

It was so cold that day the coffee turned cold in the cups and the food was gelled after two bites. The lady from afar kept a stiff upper lip but her teeth were chattering so violently she looked like an astronaut during the acceleration stage.

The spell was shattered by an onslaught of goose flesh. When the lady turned blue, the game was over. We got into a warm car and departed for Alma Mater. That was June.

It's all part of the average, like everything that's going to happen for the next six weeks of Spring. Take it and like it, fellow sufferers, because it's part of the average, like you. You're not so hot, either.

Worry Isn't Going To Help!

Hoffa Raps 'Stupid' Newspapers

By Victor Riesel

It is the privilege of James Hoffa to take the platform and assail the press as "stupid." He exercised that privilege the other day.

Perhaps we are. But I doubt any of us would have taken that platform, even to denounce him. It was from the speaker's rostrum at the Denver convention of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union that Jim Hoffa not only labeled us stupid but also told his audience that this union inspired him with hope.

That's strange. Especially after reading Docket No. 116-56 of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB). Mr. Hoffa should know of this document. It involves this union, with which he has a political and industrial mutual aid pact.

This official government document states bluntly that the SACB has determined that the Mine Mill union is "a Communist-infiltrated organization within the meaning of section 3 of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950, as amended by the Communist Control Act of 1954."

This decision came down on May 4, 1962 — after almost eight years of hearings and investigations.

SINCE THIS MAY be news to Jim Hoffa I want to quote the law on the meaning of a "Communist-infiltrated organization."

Section 3 defines this as "any organization in the U.S. (other than a Communist-front organization or a Communist-front organization) which (A) is substantially directed, dominated or controlled by an individual or individuals who are, or who within three years have been actively engaged in, giving aid or support to a Communist-action organization, a Communist foreign government, or the world Communist movement referred to in section 2 of this title, and (B) is serving, or within three years has served, as a means for the giving of aid or support to any such organization, government, or movement."

This is part of a long and spectacular document. But you get the general idea of what the government thinks officially of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers — a union whose jurisdiction covers the mining and smelting of non-ferrous metals such as nickel, copper, uranium.

THIS DECISION of the Subversive Activities Control Board would automatically deprive the Mine-Mill outfit of its right to represent the miners and to function under the National Labor Relations Board. This could practically put it out of existence as a union. So there is ample opportunity for appeals.

At the moment the organization has resorted to the Federal Court of Appeals and it can go to the Supreme Court if it is unsuccessful in the lower division. The union has also asked the Subversive Activities Control Board for a hearing on a redetermination of the findings.

These hearings are under way. Ten witnesses have been heard in Washington and 20 in San Francisco. The union asked for—and got—a recess so it could open its national convention last Monday.

The Justice Department is fighting the appeals. Federal attorneys are asking the board to strike out the testimony of some witnesses which the union has been putting on the stand in its effort to have the board state that the Mine-Mill organization is not now a Communist-infiltrated unit.

The witnesses whose testimony the Justice lawyers want stricken have taken the Fifth Amendment when asked if they were Communists before 1959. This, the federal men charge, prevents cross-examination.

THE TWO APPEALS will be in the works for a long time. But meanwhile there is Docket No. 116-56.

It is to the leaders of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, gathered in convention, that Jim Hoffa shouted against "stupid newspapers." It is to the leaders of this convention that Hoffa said, theirs is one of the few unions which inspire "hope that the American labor movement will finally wake up before it is destroyed."

It is with this union that Hoffa, in the name of the Teamsters, completed on Aug. 18, 1961, a "mutual assistance pact designed to promote cooperation in all major areas of trade union activity."

Hoffa should read Docket No. 116-56. It may startle him, as it did a great many others.

Verbal Fire Extinguisher

By James Marlow

It snowed in the Washington area in the morning. Then it was cool all day. President Kennedy let it stay that way.

For two years Kennedy, like President Eisenhower before him, has been using a kind of verbal fire extinguisher to keep the heat down.

This doesn't make for lively news conferences but it helps the President avoid fights.

At his news conference Thursday night Kennedy didn't irritate anyone except perhaps Fidel Castro.

Much of the conference was based on hope, a word that ran all through it.

Kennedy said he hoped more Russians would leave Cuba; that he could visit Berlin when he visits West Germany; that the New York newspaper strike will end soon, and that a NATO nuclear force can be established in Europe.

The President declined an excellent chance to get embroiled with his old friends in Congress when asked how he felt about the Senate investigation of the TFX fighter plane contract.

This contract, with the approval of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, went to the General Dynamics Corp. instead of the low bidder, Boeing Co. in Seattle Wash. About $6.5 billion are involved.

McNamara was asked how come by a committee headed by Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark. McNamara said it saved the government money. This didn't satisfy the committee. It went on digging.

McNamara said this was undermining morale in the Pentagon. And Thursday Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., not only agreed with him but backed him.

Kennedy was completely non-inflammatory. He said he thought McNamara was a fine secretary and had done the right thing. He also said the investigation was not only all right but would find McNamara was, too.

In Korea the military rulers, to the displeasure of Koreans who want elections and civilian rule, indicated a desire to stay in charge another four years.

This is a sore subject, particularly since Koreans remember the United States supported the dictatorship of President Syngman Rhee before he was tossed out.

Kennedy was asked his views on the situation now. He said conditions there now are "in flux" and he doubted "anything I would say on it would be helpful, at least this week."

If this disappointed the Korean civilians at least Kennedy didn't back the army officers, either.

Last Dec. 29 Kennedy went to Miami to address members of the Cuban brigade ransomed from Castro's prisons where they had lain since their futile Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961.

While making no provisions of U.S. armed invasion of Cuba, the President urged a wildly cheering crowd of refugees to prepare for the day of freedom.

He didn't say how to prepare. And he didn't say how the freedom was to be achieved. Nor has any other government official since then explained it.

Castro's Threat

By David Lawrence

Facts Are Coming Out On Communist Program

The U.S. government spends billions of dollars to get intelligence information from foreign countries, and it has concentrated particularly in trying to find out how much subversion and infiltration by the Communists has been going on in Central and South America.

At least the facts are coming out authoritatively. John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, now has told Congress what Castro is doing to "export" communism from Cuba. President Kennedy has said that it is the firm intention of the United States to prevent such "export" from becoming effective. Mr. McCone said in his statement to a House committee:

"The public pronouncements of Cuban leaders, the daily record of events in Latin America, and reports from our intelligence sources within Communist and other left-extremist elements throughout this hemisphere all agree on one salient conclusion: that Fidel Castro is spurring and supporting efforts of Communists and other revolutionary elements to overthrow and seize control of the governments in Latin America."

"Even before the October missile crisis — and with increasing rancor since then — Cuban leaders have been exhorting revolutionary movements to violence and terrorism, and supporting their activities."

"CUBAN SUPPORT takes many different forms, but its main thrust is in the supply of the inspiration, the guidance, the training, and the communications and technical assistance that revolutionary groups in Latin America require. . . ."

"Cuba has given guerrilla training to more nationals from Venezuela than from any other country. Our best estimate now is that more than 200 Venezuelans received such training in 1962. . . ."

"Leaders of the militant groups in Venezuela, Brazil and Peru who have gone to Cuba seeking assistance have been told by Cuban leaders that Cuba is willing to furnish funds, training, and technical assistance."

Mr. McCone said that, while the amount of identifiable quantities of weapons being sent to Latin-American insurgents is not at present significant, he has no reason to believe that it will not increase. He added:

"Cuban financing of subversive operations in Latin America is generally effected by couriers carrying cash."

Mr. McCone gave several examples of this type of operation. He continued:

"One of the most important Communist assets in Latin America is a large number of Communist-bloc diplomatic and Cuban missions. These missions are used to further Communist subversive activities even in countries where there are no bloc diplomatic missions."

"The Soviets, and in some cases some satellites as well, have diplomatic missions in Mexico, Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay. The U.S.S.R. maintains relations with Bolivia but has no resident mission there. Cuba maintains embassies in Mexico, Brazil, Bolivia, Uruguay and Chile."

Members of Congress are wondering whether, in view of these authentic reports, the United States is fulfilling its promise to prevent the "export" of communism and the sending of Soviet-trained personnel from Cuba to infiltrate the governments and subvert the economy of the various countries in Latin America.

Testifying recently before a House subcommittee on foreign affairs, Edwin M. Martin, assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, made the following statement when asked about the future policy of the United States:

"I would suppose lastly we are determined in the spirit of the Punta del Este resolution which declared that a Communist regime is incompatible with the inter-American system, to see to it, in association if possible, but alone if it becomes necessary, that no further Communist regimes get established in Latin America."

REP. GROSS, R-Iowa, then engaged in this colloquy with Mr. Martin:

Mr. Gross: "Then you have no timetable for the surgery necessary to remove this cancer?"

Mr. Martin: "No, sir."

Mr. Gross: "Aren't you disturbed by the fact that the cancer can overcome the Central and South American area before the government falls in Cuba?"

Mr. Martin: "No, I think we feel we are making progress in this regard. It is a matter of concern, but we think the operation might well worsen the condition of the patient and it would also raise global problems which would worsen the position of the United States from a world security standpoint."

Mr. Gross: "We are right back where we started from—"

Mr. Martin: "On this particular question, that is correct. I think the President has made that quite clear a good many times."

Mr. Gross: "As far as I am concerned — and I don't want to argue with you—I don't think we have a policy. I think the President is playing this thing by ear and from hour to hour and day to day. I don't think this government has a policy with respect to Cuba. I think the only policy that we have is one of hope for the best and fear the worst."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On Page 2 of Tuesday's Review was an article which may have escaped the notice of many of your readers.

It announced the intention of the Ohio Department of Highways to spray with herbicides the state routes in Columbiana and six other counties. This vitally concerns all of us who enjoy the fresh green roadsides and deplore the piteous blasted shrubs and trees scarifying the landscape after a bout with herbicides.

Although realizing that some clearing of the roadsides is necessary, many of us are convinced that mowing and cutting is the answer rather than the mutilating spraying. Economy is a poor argument for making the roadsides hideous just when they should be most beautiful.

It would be just as sensible for a home owner to spray his green lawn, killing the grass, to save himself the trouble and expense of mowing. The irony of this herbicide program is this—were some insect infesting our county and turning the vegetation at the highways' edges brown and withered, the state would rush to spray with other chemicals to kill the audacious insect!

I appeal to those who feel as I do about preserving what little beauty we have left, after the strip mines' havoc, in our county to express their opposition to the proposed spraying program to the director of highways in Columbus and let their views be known before, not after, the deed!

$6,125 Fund Set For Summitville Use During 1963

SUMMITVILLE — The 1963 appropriation ordinance of the village, totaling $6,125, was approved by Council at a meeting Thursday night.

Mayor Ernest Phillips reported on the various street resurfacing projects which Columbiana County commissioners have approved for the summer program.

The streets include Shale Ave., oil treatment, Oak Ave. and Morgan Rd., seal coat, and W. Summit St. and sections of Nittany Dr. and 3rd St., a blade mix.

Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, clerk, reported the Ohio Highway Department will make a survey to determine the need for a proposed blinker caution light at the intersection of Depot St. and Route 644.

Bills totaling $177 were authorized paid. Councilman Dominic Sabatino was absent.

Firemen Select Fete Chairman

Plans for the annual homecoming celebration were launched at the meeting of the Glenmoor fire department Thursday night and Ace Congrove was named chairman. The date will be set later.

Herman Heiney, president of the Glenmoor Firemen's Association, presided and announced that the St. Clair Civil Defense unit will start a first aid school Tuesday night at 8. The two-hour classes will continue weekly with a registered nurse as instructor. Heiney said anyone may attend as the class is not limited to firemen or CD personnel. Interested persons may phone Heiney at FU 5-0849.

Harry Reckner, captain, and Congrove demonstrated a pump strainer they made, with the assistance of Ray Seitz. The pump, used in clearing flooded basements, was demonstrated at the nearby George Hamilton garage.

The bi-weekly dance will be held Saturday night from 9 to midnight at the fire hall with an orchestra providing music.

Fourteen firemen and four members of the women's auxiliary attended the meeting.

Kennedy

sary, to maintain their own freedom, and to build societies which serve the welfare of all their people."

In the domestic area, two topics were paramount.

Kennedy said, "We don't believe that there will be a recession this year," that economic indicators seem more encouraging. But, he said, later, if the economy falters and Congress wants to speed up his plan for a three-year tax cut of $10.2 billion, "I would accept that."

Under present conditions, he argued, the administration proposes a proper balance between lower taxes and higher spending on "what we regard as essential programs."

The President gave unqualified support to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's handling of the controversial TEX fighter plane contract, awarded to the General Dynamics Corp. despite the lower bid of Boeing Co. The more the Senate Investigations subcommittee explores the contract at hearings, Kennedy said, "the more convinced people are finally that Secretary McNamara is a very effective secretary of defense and that we are lucky to have him."

Kennedy said McNamara "is willing to make hard decisions" and doesn't mind "that a good many people don't like it." The President said McNamara rejected an appeal by Kennedy's own brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., concerning a contract award.

Also in the domestic field, the President said there is nothing to reports that Postmaster General J. Edgar Day will resign before 1964 election.

Intruder Loots Home Of Dead Boy's Mother

Mrs. Betty Thompson Quinn, 475 Mulberry St., whose 4-year-old son was found dead Sunday morning, told police Thursday an intruder looted her home of food Monday night or Tuesday.

Mrs. Quinn, residing temporarily on Cadmus St., told officers the burglar removed frozen food from the refrigerator at the East End apartment and also stole 25 pounds of potatoes. There was no sign of forcible entry, but the burglar apparently left via a rear door, as it was standing open, police said.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, county coroner, ruled Thursday Mrs. Quinn's son, Dan, died of natural causes.

Brakes Blamed As Truck Drifts Into 2 Vehicles

LISBON — Heavy damage resulted to a tractor-trailer truck, car and another truck when the first rig's brakes released while it was halted on Route 14 Thursday and it drifted into the other two vehicles.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said William Bosley, 27, of Southington halted his rig to assist another truck putting on chains on slick Firestone Hill a mile east of Route 7.

Bosley's rig drifted back and sideswiped a halted car operated by Alfred Balke, 55, of Columbiana, then continued backward and jack-knifed into another truck operated by James A. Beggie, 43, of Warren, Mich., officers said. No one was hurt, but all the vehicles were extensively damaged, the patrol reported.

Attorney Wins Suit To Collect $1,039 Fee

A verdict favoring an Elkins attorney in his civil suit to collect $1,039 in fees was returned Thursday afternoon in Hancock County Circuit Court by a petit jury.

The defendants were Kenneth Rugh and Edward Rugh, officers of Hillcrest Farms near Chester. Atty. Kump sought fees for legal work on the title of the farm he said he did in 1955. Judge James G. McClure presided for the trial at New Cumberland. The jurors were John H. Hadeley, Wilbert A. Weekly, Frank W. Giebell, Paul VanJura, Paul Leeson, James A. McAtee Jr., Marie Knauss, Andrew Perkins, Stewart Mayhew, Albert Orwaskey, Herman R. Rice, and Olin L. Smeerman.

Metsch Refractories Workers Form Union

The International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery said today it is awaiting official certification from the National Labor Relations bargaining agent for employees of Metsch Refractories, Inc., at Chester, after winning an NLRB-sponsored representation election at the plant last week.

The new Chester unit has not been assigned a local union number, but it has elected temporary officers and is conducting meetings, the IBOP said.

In the election to designate a bargaining agent, the IBOP and an independent plant union appeared on the ballot. The IBOP said it won the election by "a large majority." The employees were organized by Frank Dales and Clyde Jones, international vice presidents.

The loss included the school library, textbooks and some band instruments. The school was to be abandoned after the present term when the new one will be ready.

Judge Tobin Discusses Importance Of Law, Jury

The importance of law in the American way of life and the significance of the jury system were underscored by Probate Judge Louis Tobin in a talk before the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Judge Tobin of St. Clair Ave. spoke on the Ohio and Columbus County judicial system which ranges from East Liverpool Municipal Court and the three County Courts through Probate, Juvenile, Common Pleas, Appellate and the state Supreme Court.

He defined the jurisdiction and makeup of the various courts and outlined their many duties.

"We have in our country government by law, not by man," the jurist explained, "and the courts can do only what the law permits."

"We sometimes forget how important the law is to our everyday life, how vital it is to our liberties and protection. Although much interest is placed in the election of a governor, few people show especial interest in the election of judges," he went on.

The judge also declared he believes the jury system is the cornerstone of the American justice system. "I believe the composite wisdom of a jury is greater than that of the presiding judge, because the jury is bringing a greater variety of experience and understanding to the study of the case."

"Our jury system is better than in France, I feel, where the judge convenes a jury only if he wants to."

"However, a sad thing is happening in our county and in our state," Judge Tobin said.

"More and more men are asking to be relieved of serving on juries, apprehensive of the loss of work and money. As a result, today we have on the average jury nine or more women."

"I don't wish to deride women, but this imbalance of the type of jury differs from the original intent, a cross-section of our population," he said.

"If you are called for jury duty," he told the club, "ask yourself if you would want to be tried before a jury on which there is a composition not fully representative of your community."

Judge Tobin was introduced by James Roslund, James Miller, county juvenile officer, was a guest.

4,000-Mile Research Test Passed By Atlas

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force says an advance F model Atlas has passed a 4,000-mile research test.

The 65-foot-tall missile roared out over the Pacific to an undisclosed target area Thursday. The launch took only about a minute after the Atlas was elevated from its underground silo.

The delay was for a final electronic check.

Man Surrenders To City Police In Wheeling Thefts

A 26-year-old man is in Ohio County jail at Wheeling awaiting a hearing on a charge he burglarized his mother's apartment of property worth $240 Tuesday at Wheeling after surrendering himself Wednesday to East Liverpool police.

George McGinnis admitted to local officers he burglarized the home of Mrs. Steve Miller, taking a record player worth $90, a black onyx ring valued at $35, a wrist watch worth $50 and a pair of shoes valued at $11.95.

Deputy Sheriff Greg Taylores of Ohio County and Detective John Mennillo of Wheeling came to East Liverpool to return McGinnis there for prosecution on a burglary charge. He is in jail at Wheeling awaiting a hearing next week before Squire Carl J. Fisher.

Authorities said McGinnis admitted pawning the stolen record player in Wheeling and selling the ring in Steubenville. He had the watch and shoes in his possession when he surrendered, police said.

Judges Rule Governorship For Rolvaag

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Karl Rolvaag is the duly elected governor of Minnesota, three judges who supervised a recount of the more than million and a quarter ballots cast in the Nov. 6 election said in a formal order late Thursday.

Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen indicated he might have a statement today on whether the finding would be appealed to the Minnesota Supreme Court. The recount showed him loser to Rolvaag by 91 votes.

The judges ordered that, barring an appeal, a certificate of election be issued to Rolvaag on April 1, which would mean he could take office the next day.

That 10-day lag could be shortened should Andersen decide against an appeal and sign a court agreement to that effect.

If an appeal is made, at least another month would be required for the necessary briefs and arguments. This would carry the change in governors well beyond the April 22 adjournment target of the current legislature.

Andersen has remained in office under a state law requiring that his successor be "duly elected and qualified" before he steps down.

Rolvaag is 49, Andersen 51. The governor's term runs four years.

The original tabulation of the state canvassing board in late November had given Andersen the governorship by a 142-vote margin.

But the recount judges found the actual tally was: Rolvaag 619,842, Andersen 619,751. And they said in one paragraph of the decision that the recount was "as accurate and reliable as any statewide canvass possibly could be."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

So There!

Dear Ann: I just read the letter signed "Irate" and for the first time in my life I feel compelled to toss in my two cents worth.

My husband and I are also married seven years and have no children. Our friends also pestered, nagged and harangued us to death about being childless. We were called selfish, shortsighted, and were likewise warned that our marriage would end in the divorce courts.

For five years we put up with crude inquiries of friends, relatives, and total strangers. Then one day some smart aleck colared me at a cocktail party and asked why we didn't have any children. I replied in a voice which could be heard across the room. "I'm sterile." His jaw dropped six inches and he couldn't get away from me fast enough. This has been my stock answer ever since. It shuts up the brassiest boor instantly.—BARONESS WASTE.

Dear Baroness: Thank you for the jaw-dropper. (Mine dropped, too.)

Kenmar Expects Brighter Future; Dividend Slated

EAST PALESTINE — An increase in sales, an $82,000 pre-tax income compared to a previous loss and a prospect for "satisfactory" business in 1963 for the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. were announced by Robert Maurer of Columbiana, president.

In his annual report to stockholders, Maurer said the firm had a 16.9 per cent rise in sales in helping to boost income over the $90,000 loss in 1961.

The firm is paying a 20-cent dividend.

He said, "The 10 per cent reduction in incentive rates agreed upon by employees in November 1961 resulted in wage increases for all except salaried employees."

Maurer said a satisfactory level of business is anticipated this year. Maurer, who is also treasurer and director, and other officials of the firm were re-elected.

Jet Age Layout

Chicago Airport World's Busiest

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's busiest airport, Chicago's O'Hare International, is an immense jet age layout that has become almost a city in itself.

When President Kennedy attended dedication ceremonies Saturday, he will find a sprawling 7,200-acre installation that serves 13½ million passengers a year and handles nearly a flight a minute on the average. Located 21 miles northwest of downtown Chicago, the airport has parking facilities for 5,700 cars and can feed 1,500 persons at a time in its biggest restaurant.

It represents a $200-million investment. O'Hare has become an air crossroads of the world. Nonstop service is provided to many foreign cities. Seven foreign airlines and 14 domestic airlines use its facilities.

With more than 400,000 flights last year O'Hare surpassed New York's Idlewood Airport traffic of 11,510,390 passengers and 290,133 flights.

Wendell Bowyer, director of the reappraisal program in West Virginia, headed the state workers on the job this morning. The others are Pat Board III, Bud Thaxton, Nelson Dempsey, Wilson White and Sam Humphreys.

Anderson was hired as new assessor by county commissioners Wednesday in a 2-1 vote with Commissioner James Finley of Weirton in opposition.

Leon, a candidate for mayor of Weirton in the municipal primary May 7, said he resigned because a letter from Battle directed him to use the reappraisal program.

Equalization of tax assessments will apparently be one of the outcomes in the huge hike. The county must raise its property assessments to a certain percentage of the appraisal value or suffer penalties in state school aid.

Revision of the assessment figures will eliminate what officials have described as "out of proportion" rates. An example is a

Group Enlarges Trash Container Purchase Plans

Although a current project for purchase of sidewalk trash containers was initiated by the downtown improvement committee, participation is open to any Chamber of Commerce member regardless of the location of his business place, the East Liverpool Merchants Association said today.

ELMA members, through contributions, will purchase metal tops that will be used to convert 55-gallon oil drums to trash containers. The cost will include cutting the tops out of the drums, repainting them and drilling holes in the bottom to allow water to escape.

The committee said ELMA or Chamber members wishing to participate in the purchase project may phone H. J. Allison, manager of the Frank Crook Co., who heads the committee, or the Chamber office.

Some of the existing trash containers will be repaired and offered to the schools.

'Centennial Queen' To Be Kept Secret

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's "Centennial Queen" will be selected at White Sulphur Springs Saturday, but the results will remain a secret for another month.

Although there will be no public judging at White Sulphur, the queen's committee will make its selection. The Centennial Commission says the queen's name will be kept secret until time for the coronation on the State Capitol steps here April 27.

The five finalists are Sandra Ross of Clendenin, Peggy Tucker of Bluefield, Nancy Conwell of Clarksburg, Dee Ann Moore of Ravenswood and Barbara Broadwater of St. Marys.

Director Carl R. Sullivan confirmed that the U.S. Treasury Department has dusted off a law apparently winked at for years

Horace Mann School Group Names Election Committee

A nominating committee was named by Mrs. Ellen Johnson, president, at a meeting of the Horace Mann Home and School Association Wednesday afternoon.

The committee consists of Donald Davis, chairman, Mrs. Anna McDonald, Mrs. Idella Gooding and Mrs. Alice Skidmore, third grade teacher.

The group made arrangements to purchase a new projector for the school and plans were discussed to purchase and erect two basketball backboards and baskets. Davis is chairman of the project. It was announced that the Child Counseling Center will hold a dinner April 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Beaver Local School.

The group will sponsor the annual fifth grade party.

Jack Conley reported on the reand years which might put the commission in the role of a striker of money if it followed its original plans.

"We have envisioned the trade dollars as souvenir pieces, and as means of stimulating trade in this centennial year," Sullivan explained.

"They were to have been of metal, with an exchange value of $1 in either cash or merchandise through arrangements with various business outlets and banking institutions.

"Now, after conferences with Treasury Department officials, we are looking for a synthetic material which would be suitable for our purposes.

"But unless we can be assured of a quality product, we're not too interested in going ahead with the dollars.

Sullivan said that what happened at the Seattle World's Fair last year apparently brought the Treasury Department's new look at the old federal statute.

"The trade dollar issued at Seattle became so popular, I understand, that it almost became money as such," Sullivan said.

The first offering of the West Virginia centennial trade dollar had been scheduled for yesterday, but has been delayed.

Rhodes Declines To Give Details Of 'Ripper' Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has denied that he has any idea how many state employees would be removed from civil service status under a reorganization bill being readied for introduction in the Ohio General Assembly.

Rhodes confirmed at a press conference Thursday that the bill will be introduced but declined to give details. The governor refused to call the measure "ripper legislation," the name some lawmakers are using.

Some unconfirmed reports say such a bill has already been prepared but is stymied because its terms are not acceptable to prospective sponsors. Rhodes denied that his office has sent the bill to the legislature.

On other matters, Rhodes said he is opposed to a one per cent increase in the state's 3 per cent sales tax, as proposed by the Ohio Education Association. The OEA has asked the increase to aid public education.

Police said a car driven by Henry L. Davis, 20, missed a curve on Old Lakeshore Boulevard near East 104th Street and leaped up onto a tree lawn. It then swerved across the street and struck a tree on the other side.

Killed was Carl A. Myers, 28, of Chesterland. He was Bratenahl's first traffic fatality in two years.

Taken to Forest City Hospital with Davis was another passenger, who was not identified immediately. Both were listed in fair condition.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

DEAR HELOISE: For those whose homes accumulate a great deal of dust and lint . . . listen to the way I solved the back-breaking problem of cleaning under my bed.

I had an old shower curtain. I opened it flat and stretched it out under the bed. All of the dust and lint from my chenille bedspreads, cotton carpets, so forth, end up on this old shower curtain instead of in my carpets.

About once a week I pull the shower curtain out from under the bed, fold it carefully, take it outside and shake it. That's all! This saves me the backbreaking job of moving the bed and sweeping under it weekly. The shower curtain does not show as the bedspread hides it.

MARY.

Now aren't you a tricky one? HELOISE.

Dusting Tip

DEAR HELOISE: You ought to invest in several radiator brushes. The ones I use are 24 inches (over-all) and the brush part is 9 inches long. (By the way I have no radiators.) You will wonder how you have managed without them before.

Paste thin strips of foam rubber on both sides of one and use it to clean in between the rungs of chairs, for brushing picture frames, tops of door frames, underneath furniture and in the kitchen to clean the narrow spaces between stoves and cabinets, under the refrigerator, etc., where the vacuum attachments will not reach.

Here's a trick that never fails to be a conversation piece!

In a shallow glass bowl place ¼ cup of colored water, a handful of moth balls, 2 tablespoons citric acid and one teaspoon baking soda. The addition of the acid and soda causes the water to effervesce and the moth balls bob up and down in the water. It may be necessary to add another pinch of soda and more acid, after an hour or so, to keep the bubbles going.

MRS. A.M.H.

DEAR HELOISE: A small plastic squeeze bottle filled with ¼ ammonia and ¾ water is wonderful to carry in the car for washing the windshield. This is handy to remove inside grease film from cigarette smoke on car windows.

MRS. E. LAMBOLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't continually baste large or small fowl when roasting.

Using a pastry brush, I lather the bird with plain mayonnaise, getting under the wings and in the folds of the fowl. Then I sprinkle with garlic salt and pepper and roast as usual.

You will have a nice brown crispy crust on the bird. This works equally well for baking the small broiler halves of chicken.

ROWENA L. PARSONS.

DEAR HELOISE: How can we distinguish the vegetable scouring pad from the pot cleaning one? Very simple . . . just take your scissors and round the corners of one and shape it like a potato!

MRS. CHARLES HART.

DEAR HELOISE: Most people throw their apple skins away. We don't! We save ours.

We keep all the skins in the refrigerator in a jar until we get a jar full and then we cook them, put them through a sieve and add a little sugar. Lo and behold! A jar of home-made applesauce is the result.

I always wash my apples before storing in my refrigerator. GRACE T. WARREN.

Achievements of the past year will be reviewed along with presentation of the awards.

Further plans are being made and will be announced later, Snow said.

Fat-Fighting Foods Help Dieters

Supermarkets have a wide variety of fat-fighting foods designed to help overweights keep the calories on the svelte side. None of these special items should be thought of as "reducing" foods, for no food can reduce weight. But they can help you outwit calories.

There are a few low-calorie items: jellies, marmalades, and preserves which contain only three to five calories per teaspoon. These are sweetened with non-nutritive sweeteners.

Such sweeteners have been on the market for a long time in tablet and liquid form. Fairly new is the shaker, handy for fruit and cereals.

Manufacturers have concentrated on foods normally included in all menus.

THERE ARE a number of low-calorie salad dressings such as French-type dressings, and Blue Cheese dressing for 2 to 3 calories per teaspoon. A whipped mayonnaise type dressing can be used to make deviled eggs or with a bit of chili sauce, dieter's Russian dressing.

Dieter's cranberry sauce, practically free of calories, can perk up cold meats as well as the traditional turkey or chicken. Water packed tuna is readily available.

Low calories carbonated beverages have proven enormously popular. These contain from 3 to 8 calories per bottle and include all flavors — orange, lemon, grape, raspberry, cherry, ginger ale, root beer, coffee and cola.

More economical, if teenagers are trying to curtail calories, is the special liquid fruit punch concentrate already sweetened with non-nutritive sweetener or a powdered form to which you add your own.

There is even solace for the dieters with the chronic sweet tooth for dessert. Gelatins in six different flavors, sweetened with non-nutritive sweeteners contain only 10 calories per serving.

SPECIAL PUDDINGS, vanilla, butterscotch or chocolate flavored D-Zerta, can be made with skim milk and furnish only 54 calories per serving. Whip topping adds only 14 calories and bolsters your morale.

It is important to know that the label "non-nutritive" means exactly that — no food value. Therefore these foods should only be used as an accessory in connection with a well balanced diet. The protective foods will always be the backbone of safe reducing diets.

She said the child had had a valve defect in her heart since birth.

Moore's Chances Of Living Are Poor After Title Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former champion Davey Moore was in a coma suffering from "a serious head injury" and his chances of living are poor, a hospital physician said early today after the former champion lost his title to Sugar Ramos in one of three title fights here Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel reported the former featherweight champion was in a deep coma.

"His chances are extremely poor," Dr. Vogel said. He added that Moore had suffered general injury to the mid-brain area and said that Moore's fate probably will be known within the next 12 hours.

No brain operation was contemplated.

All three boxing titles up for grabs had new owners today after a pair of spectacular knockouts and a controversial decision in the ballyhooed triple championship fight extravaganza.

A crowd of 26,142 watched as Ramos won the featherweight title in the middle bout by kayoing Moore—who was taken by ambulance to a hospital about an hour after the fight. He was unconscious and X-rays were taken.

In the opener at Dodger Stadium, Luis Rodriguez took the welterweight championship away from Emilio Griffith on a decision—unanimous but subject to argument. In the windup, Roberto Cruz wound up and knocked out Battling Torres in the first round and won the vacant junior welterweight title.

The doctor described Moore's injury as a contusion, more serious than a brain concussion.

Boxing officials, including Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, who had asked the bout be stopped, kept vigil at White Memorial Hospital.

Ramos, who lost the early rounds, smashed Moore down in the 10th round and had him draped over a rope and helpless as the round ended.

In his dressing room, the dethroned 126-pound king said "I'd like to fight him again," then, some time after, was taken by ambulance to the White Memorial Hospital. The 29-year-old Moore was rolled out of his dressing room on a table.

Also at the hospital was Moore's wife, Geraldine, who never watched her husband in the ring, but was given permission to see him at the hospital. She wept as she left Moore's room. They reside in Columbus, Ohio.

Flayton Frye, California Athletic Commission secretary, said Moore had been talking to Ketchum, and his other handlers, and "apparently lapsed into unconsciousness or maybe fell off asleep."

Moore led off the 10th round with a left hook and had Ramos pinned against the ropes when the powerful challenger suddenly drove the champion across the ring with a flurry of lefts. One left dropped Moore to his knee. He got up quickly but promptly ran into another barrage that dropped him to the canvas again.

Moore got up as the count reached five but lurched across the ring and draped himself on the ropes. Ramos closed in and Moore spilled halfway between the ropes when the bell sounded. He was carried to the corner.

Ramos, who fled from Cuba and now makes Mexico City his home, remained undefeated, winning his 41st fight. The two boxers each weighed 125½ pounds for their blistering battle.

Griffith, ironically, was involved in a fatal title fight almost exactly one year ago. He regained the welterweight crown last March 24 at New York's Madison Square Garden by stopping Benny (Kid) Paret, who died of brain injuries suffered in the bout 10 days later.

Rodriguez, an ex-Cuban who now calls Miami, Fla., home, boxed his way to the unanimous verdict over the harder-hitting Griffith.

"I can't understand it," Griffith moaned. "He didn't hurt me once and I hurt him several times. Rodriguez wouldn't stay in there and fight. He kept running."

The new 147-pound champion who weighed 146 to 148½ for Griffith, explained, "I planned to keep moving around and use the left jab and hit him in the stomach. The plan worked perfectly.

Griffith never hurt me any time." Referee Tommy Hart scored the bout 9-5. Judge Lee Grossman 8-5 and Judge John Thomas 8-6 all for Rodriguez. The Associated Press scored 8-4 for Griffith.

Cruz, a 21-year-old, was an underdog like Ramos, with odds of 2½-1 against him. But hardly had the crowd settled down after hearing the national anthem of Mexico and the fight was over.

The Filipino said he knocked Torres down first with a right and then twice more with left hooks. The final one came whistling under perfect execution and Torres went flat on the canvas taking a full 10 count. Cruz weighed 138½ to 140, the junior welter limit, for Torres.

Miller's Team In Regionals . . .

Former Potter star Dencil Miller has guided his Pettisville team into the Regional Class A semi-finals, two steps away from the coveted trip to the state finals at Columbus.

It marks the first time Miller's team has advanced this far and tonight, at Lima, Pettisville meets Wakeman Western Reserve, which has a 20-3 record.

The principle of Pettisville High School will have to share a little in the success of the team this season. He moved to Pettisville last year and brought with him his son, who is the center of the team. He stands 6-foot-8.

Miller has something similar to Norwin and "Big John" Naponik. Not too many of Pettisville's opponents have anyone big enough to stop the Pettisville giant.

Dencil's team has a 19-5 record for the season after wrapping up the District title last week end at Defiance.

The other two teams in the regional at Lima are York (22-2) and Gomer (18-5). They will meet in the first game tonight.

AL BAILEY, another East Liverpool athlete who got into the coaching game, turned out a surprising team at Geneva High this season. His squad battled all the way to the District finals before bowing to Cleveland East last weekend.

Owens Has Been Impressive . . .

JIM OWENS, who has been impressive in three spring appearances with the Cincinnati Reds, ran his scoreless streak to 10 innings before giving up a home run to Twins' shortstop Zorro Versalles in the third inning of their game Tuesday.

Owens went seven innings and was credited with the victory. In that game, East Liverpool's Bernie Allen was 0-for-2 and committed an error which allowed a Cincy runner to reach first base. The next batter—John Edwards—blasted a two-run homer that put the Reds in front.

Yesterday against the Pirates Allen singled and scored a run but the Minnesota Twins dropped a 5-4 decision in 10 innings. The Twins have been losing quite a few one-run decisions.

Owens, traded to Cincy by the Phils, spends his winter months in Midland.

Bribes Reach High Schools . . .

THE BASKETBALL scandal, the accusations against Bear Bryant and Wally Butts and now an attempted fix of a high school athlete.

The gamblers are going a little too far, for the attempted bribes have reached into high school athletics.

A father of a star high school sprinter near Pasadena, Calif., claims two men offered $1,000 if his son would lose the 100-yard dash in a meet last Saturday.

The story, as told by John W. House, included a threat of violence if his son John Jr. won the event in the Southern Counties' meet at Huntington Beach.

The youth won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the meet.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

RICH ASHCROFT, the former all-around athlete at South Side, is due home from Wichita University this weekend and will report to the Twins minor league training base at Orlando, Fla. April 1. Ashcroft was signed by Minnesota for a $4,000 bonus last summer.

BOB HEDMOND Potter football coach, reminds fans that the Sports Night Tuesday featuring Pete Ankeny is free to the public. Also any prospective football candidates and their fathers are invited.

LOCAL basketball fans may have the opportunity of seeing big John Naponik in action when the Nonpareil Clubs Junior Basketball tournament is held here April 3-6. Two teams planning to enter the tourney are making strong bids for his services.

EX-POTTER Bob Mackall, who has been plagued with nothing but injuries during football season, is back in the hospital at Northwestern U. with appendicitis.

SLATES GILL, coach of the Oregon State team which takes the floor tonight in the NCAA semi-finals against Cincinnati, is a real veteran of the college basketball wars.

Gil has coached the Beavers since the 1928-29 season. His teams have won 575 and lost 386.

Bearcats Seek 3rd Straight National Title

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati meets Oregon State and Chicago Loyola plays racehorse with Duke's Blue Devils tonight as basketball's big three and an upstart that could steal it all reach the showdown stage in the National Collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record third straight NCAA championship, plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the double-header that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play for the championship Saturday night.

Sellout record crowds of 19,153 will stream both nights into massive Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, where the Bearcats of Ed Jucker took their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of Jerry Lucas and the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes.

The current Bearcats, although they've won 25 of 26 games and led The Associated Press poll from start to finish, aren't rated quite as strong as the clubs that spilled Ohio State and the great Lucas last year and in the 1961 final at Kansas City.

But as Oregon State's Slat Gill says:

"You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of its five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared, and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

Duke is on the hottest streak of the semifinals, having won its last 20 games for a 26-2 record.

Loyola rolled to the highest offensive average among the major colleges, 92.6 points a game, in winning 27 games and losing two.

40 Attend Dinner Honoring Wellsville Basketball Team

Wellsville Sons of Italy Lodge 657 feled the Wellsville High basketball squad Thursday night, with 40 attending at the Hotel Wilk.

The program featured Thomas (Tink) Healey of Canal Fulton, varsity coach at Northwest High School and ex-Tiger mentor.

In a wide-ranging talk, Healey said there is no comparison between the basketball players of today and the "old-timers." "The kids today have so many more shots that there's just no comparison with the sport of the old days," Healey said.

Healey, whose Indians posted a 6-12 record this season, advised the Tigers to "work hard." "Do your best in everything, whether at the mill or in college, and you'll get ahead," he added.

He was introduced by an associate and friend of long - standing, Coach Jack McDevitt of Wellsville. Declaring that the season was certainly an "unpredictable one," McDevitt said he was proud that his cagers refused to quit and did their best despite outside pressure. "They adjusted as well as possible and salvaged a good season, a 14-6 record," McDevitt said.

McDevitt announced that three Tigers were named to the Buckeye Border Conference All-Star squad. They were pivot Steve Baldwin, forward Ed Nelson and guard Jim Powell. A banquet for the all-stars will be held soon at Beaver Local High School.

The players and their fathers were introduced. Nunzio S. Lombardo, toastmaster, introduced Coach Ken Woods, Principal William Menough, Supt. Lowell B. Myers, Coach Jim Harris of East Liverpool, Mayor William W. Daugherty, Faculty Manager

Don Lowe, Coach Chick McMillan and Chuck Cronin of the Review.

Also introduced were Bob Delposen, announcer for home games, and the SOI committee that included Ralph Fusco, chairman, Joe Dalonzo and Tony Sarocco.

Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, gave the invocation and benediction.

Regional Firing Heavy Tonight

East Tech Routs Warren, 66-44; Gains Spot In Ohio Semi-Finals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The march along heartbreak highway to Ohio's treasured high school basketball championship resumes tonight with 24 teams battling it out in seven cities for the regional laurels.

Tonight's skirmishing, all first round events, are preliminaries to the finals Saturday night for the titles in three of the four Class AA regional tournaments and three of the four Class A regionals.

The fourth Class AA regional crown has already been picked up. Cleveland East Tech captured that tidbit for the sixth straight year with a crushing 66-44 victory over Warren Harding Thursday night. The Scarabs of East Tech, state champs in 1958 and 1959, will be one of the four big-school quintets who will go to Columbus next weekend in quest of the top prize of them all, the state championship.

Another regional, this one in Class A, got underway at Canton

Thursday night. Adena's Golden Wave and the Tigers of Petersburg Springfield Local defeated their first round opponents and play for the Northeast Regional title Saturday afternoon.

The Golden Wave (21-4) downed Lorain St. Mary (17-4) 58-54 on Jim Dalrymple's 20-point effort, and the Tigers (20-3) squeezed past Mogadore (19-4) for a 68-63 victory.

Tonight the Scarabs can sit back and watch, along with the multitude of Buckeye roundball fans, to see what three teams will join East Tech as the quartet that will appear in Ohio State's St. John Arena next weekend.

A real battle is expected in the Class AA regional at Cincinnati where two undefeated squads, a one-game loser and a thrice-defeated quintet meet tonight. Midletown, the state's top - ranked team in the Associated Press' final Class AA basketball poll, brings a 23-0 record into its fray with Urbana (22-1). In the other game, third - ranked and undefeated Dayton Chaminade (23-0) and Cincinnati Elder (20-3) meet headon.

In the Northeast Regional at Canton, Portsmouth (16-5) battles Columbus East (21-1) and Zanesville (18-4) goes against Canton McKinley (19-3). And in the Northwest, Marion Harding (21-2) and Toledo Central (21-1) meet at 5).

Bowling Green while Elyria (17-6) and Lima Senior (10-10) collide at Toledo. The winners of the latter two games meet at Toledo Saturday to decide the Northwest Regional crown.

Likewise, all the other regional titles will be decided Saturday.

The little giants of Class A will provide the small school fans plenty of action as well.

At Athens, Beaver of Pike County (22-2) runs up against Circleville Logan Elm (17-4) and Green Township (23-2) of Scioto County puts its hopes on the line against Dresden (22-2) for the Southeastern Regional crown. The Southwestern Regional tourney at Troy has Seven Mile (12-9) pitted against River Valley of Marion County (17-5) and Jackson Center (21-3) meeting Sabina (21 - 2). Fighting for the Northwestern Regional honors is York of Sandusky County (22-2) versus Gomer (18-5) and Wakeman Western Reserve (20-3) versus Pettisville (19-5).

Puts 'Shell' Around Jones

Canisius 'Crawls' To NIT Finals On Back Of Turtle

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A Turtle who treads a Wildcat is the newest—and perhaps most improbable—member of the National Invitation Tournament's starting ranks.

And the harassing job Pat Turtle, barely recovered from a broken ankle, did on hot-shooting Wally Jones of the Villanova Wildcats has to be the key reason Canisius is in Saturday's championship game in the 26th annual basketball classic.

With Jones going without a point in the last 16 minutes, the Griffins steamed past Villanova 61-46

Thursday night before a packed house of 18,429 at Madison Square Garden and gained the final along with Providence.

Fast-firing Ray Flynn again paced the Providence Friars, sparking a second-half burst that powered them over Marquette 70-64 in the first match of the semifinal doubleheader.

Turtle, a 5-foot-11 Canisius senior who suffered a right ankle fracture in practice Feb. 5, was idled from then until this past Tuesday night when he played very briefly in the Griffins' 76-67 quarter-final victory over Memphis State. He went in against Jones after the tricky Wildcat had scored 24 points, with Villanova ahead 35-31 and 16 minutes to go.

With Turtle putting a shell around Jones, Villanova's offense floundered and the inspired Griffins rolled. They exploded out of a 40-40 tie at the midway mark of the second half, getting fine scoring from Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari and sub Frank Swiatek, and smothered the Wildcats 21-6 over the last 10 minutes.

Flynn poured in 13 of Providence's 16 points and set up another basket with a steal during a second half surge as the Friars won their 14th straight.

Little Albie Swings Large Bat At Foes

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Albie Pearson, the littles Angel of them all, looks like he's over-matched every time he picks up a baseball bat. The way Pearson's been swinging lately, the bat must feel like a baton.

Pearson, 27, who stands just over 5-foot-5½ and weighs in at 141 pounds after eating, whipped the bat around at the Los Angeles camp again Thursday, leading the Angels to their seventh consecutive exhibition victory, 5-3 over San Francisco at Palm Springs, Calif. He stroked three hits, one a triple. Pearson also stole two bases, which brought quick smiles from Manager Bill Rigney.

The world champion New York Yankees had just finished their game with Washington on the other side of the country in Florida. The teams played to a 7-7, 17-inning tie in a 4-hour, 25-minute marathon at Pompano Beach.

In two other extra inning affairs, Pittsburgh handed Minnesota its fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in 10 innings at Fort Myers and the New York Mets used Charlie Neal's sacrifice fly in the 10th for a 2-1 triumph over Milwaukee at West Palm Beach.

Elsewhere, Al Kaline hit two homers as Detroit crushed Baltimore 11-1 at Lakeland, Cincinnati's Tommy Harper hit a pair in the Reds 7-6 squeaker over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota. St. Louis whipped Kansas City 6-1 at St. Petersburg, Cleveland checked the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 at Clearwater, Fla. and Boston edged Houston 4-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Thurmond Put On 3rd All-Conference Squad

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Nate Thurmond, 6-foot-11 Bowling Green center, has become the fourth player in history to be named for three consecutive years to the All-Mid-American Conference basketball team.

Thurmond, an Akron product who averaged 21.1 points a game for the BeeGees, was among three repeaters from last year on the mythical squad announced today by the league's seven coaches.

Joining him on the first team were high-scoring Manny Newsum of Western Michigan and Howard Komives, Bowling Green star guard. Also named to the first team were Toledo's Ray Wolford and Dennis Klug of Kent State.

Named to the second team were Jerry Gehring, Miami; Jerry Jackson, Ohio University; Phil Carter, Marshall; Jim Cox, Toledo, Don Hilt, Ohio U., and Ajac Triplett, Western Michigan. Hilt and Triplett tied for a spot on the second team.

Receiving honorable mention were Charles Dinkins, Miami; Bill Francis, Marshall; Wavey Junior, Bowling Green; Dan Norris, Kent State; Paul Storey, Ohio U., and Bill Street, Western Michigan.

Chamberlain Omitted From All-Star Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco's 7-foot-1 star, who won the league's scoring championship this year with 3,586 points compared to his record 4,029 of 1962, was not named on the National Basketball Association's 1963 first All-Star team announced Thursday.

The first team laurels went to Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics, Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati

Royals. Baylor was the only unanimous choice in the voting conducted by Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, among 85 sports writers and broadcasters in the league's nine cities.

Chamberlain was named on the second team along with Boston's Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn, Detroit's Bailey Howell and Syracuse's Hal Greer. First team players each will receive $200, those on the second team each get $100.

Harney Holds Stroke Lead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Paul Harney took a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 Doran Open golf tournament. Whether he holds it may depend on how the wind blows.

Worcester, Mass., where his fourth child was born, fired a 4-Harney, 33, just back from under-par 68 Thursday. He played most of his round after a sudden abatement of 25-mile-an-hour winds which buffeted the course earlier in the day.

Thus Harney escaped the tricky gusts which plagued such players as Gary Player and Arnold Palmer year, during the morning. The 7,028-yard Doral Country Club course "played very tough in the wind," Player said after he finished his early round with Palmer and Gene Littler. Player posted a 71 and, under the playing conditions, said he would "take four 71s. That would win this tournament." Palmer also had a 71.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Ladies Night On The Magic Mirror

The feast of St. Patrick, 1963, was a feast all around. From the time Edie Adams came wriggling onto the TV screen in a wide-brimmed hat and narrow-gauge levis to the moment Dinah Shore tossed us a goodnight kiss, it was girls, girls, girls — all night long. The high point of the Hal Humphrey evening (for me) came with a medley of songs calculated to get the country moving again — "Sentimental Journey," "Faraway Places," "Fancy Free," "Movin' On" — sung by the sweetest voices in the land, Ella Fitzgerald's and Dinah Shore's.

These two great girls, their vocal styles pure as apple juice and their smiles like sparkles in the night, work wonders as a team and I hope they'll come to our place for Easter dinner.

By herself, Miss Fitzgerald sang "Body and Soul" and "Runnin' Wild," with a lot of oh-oh-boop-ee-dooos filling out the wilder regions of the second song. I could listen to that brand of skat forever.

NORMALLY the lady doesn't tickle her songs, or pick them up gingerly; she holds tight to the words with an assurance that's a comfort to the listener. She seems to say, "Don't worry, nothing bad's gonna happen," and it never does.

The third leaf of the shamrock on "The Dinah Shore Show" Sunday night was the Australian coloratura, Joan Sutherland, a nice big girl with an immense voice. Her two arias, "Ah, fors'è lui" from "La Traviata" and "Vissi d'arte" from "Tosca" — were typical Sutherland performances: total efforts, like the flames from a flamethrower.

At the end of 60 minutes, Miss Sutherland was (roughly speaking) joined by the Misses Shore and Fitzgerald in "Lover, Come Back to Me." Ella and Dinah huddled together on the left of the screen while Joan laid siege to the right. The match, I suppose, was a draw once Dinah waved a microphone down from the ceiling above.

ALL THE WAY, this was a swell show, and I hope the producer-director, Charles S. Dubin, was proud of it.

The patter was just right for an open-house of its sort (Miss Shore to an old photograph of herself: "I must say, I looked more like that then than I look like this now"); the dresses were smashing; the taste in music was impeccable; the guests were in fine form; and Dinah is certainly the most ingratiating song-show hostess in the land.

The fact that she will go AWOL from NBC all next season is enough to make me tear down the bunting from the front porch and hoist the purple crepe.

Printers, Publishers Talk Today In Cleveland Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Day-long negotiations were scheduled today between the publishers and the striking Printers, described as one of two unions holding the key to ending strikes that have kept the city's two daily newspapers from publishing for 16 weeks.

In Washington Thursday, President Kennedy told his news conference that he hopes for an early settlement of the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes, based on the new vote scheduled by the New York Printers for Sunday.

Acceptance of the New York settlement, the President added, could help settle the Printers' strike in Cleveland against the Plain Dealer and the Press and News.

Publishers' representatives have said they are about $8 apart with the Printers on a $10 package seven other unions have agreed to.

In another Washington development Thursday, Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, called for a Senate investigation into the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes. He said the probe should determine if there is any link between unions and publishers in both cities.

In addition to the Printers, the Mailers and Machinists are on strike. Two other unions — the Photo Engravers and the Operating Engineers—also are negotiating contracts.

The Photo Engravers, described as the other key union blocking the way to a settlement, met for more than five hours of negotiations Thursday. Both sides declined comment and set another bargaining session for 9 a.m. Saturday.

A spokesman for the Photo Engravers has indicated the union and the publisher representatives are at least $6 apart on a two-year pact.

Learning Lists Benefits Poor Speller

Yesterday we considered ways of helping the child at home to learn to spell lists of words he brings from school. But, as many parents and teachers know, even when the child does pretty well at learning at home to spell these words correctly he may, when writing, misspell some Dr. Garry Meyers or many of the same words. Parents observe such in the informal notes the child writes to them, in his letters and in the returned papers he brings home from school. Teachers are worried over this problem, as they must read what the child writes at school or for his homework.

SOME TEACHERS and advisers would not have the child try to learn to spell even very brief lists of words at all, but dwell solely on learning to spell the words he has spelled wrong in his written work. I never could see much sense in this procedure. Why not do both?

When a child regularly learns at home to spell a few words accurately, he does have some good practice at attacking the correct spelling of any word, whether it appears in a list or on his regular written papers.

The fact that the correct spelling of words from a list does not always carry over to written work does not prove that careful mastering of a few words from a list is of no value.

IF THE CHILD, as I suggested yesterday, practices an effective learning of the few selected words on the list, it makes sense that he has made some gain in spelling. Then if he follows such effective ways of learning to spell from the lists, doesn't he have some good training and practice for studying effectively the words he has spelled wrong that he has collected with the help of his teachers and parents?

Besides, when he also works on lists, he learns to spell certain words which, as a rule, are the very ones he will have to use most often in his everyday writing.

We parents can help him use effective ways of learning at home to spell, no matter what the words he needs to learn. Let us help him make brief lists of words he often misspells, as he writes, and work hard and constantly on mastery of their spelling.

AS HE DOES written homework, let us gladly spell any word he asks us to spell or help him find its spelling in the dictionary. Let us help him wish never to spell a word wrong but to have a good spelling conscience.

In many instances, we should examine his written homework to make sure all words in it are correctly spelled.

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Spellers" and "Helping Your Child with His Lessons", may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Driver Given 40-Day Term

Two jail sentences totaling 40 days were given an East End motorist Thursday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who convicted him on charges of driving after his operator's permit had been suspended and making a false statement to obtain a driver's permit.

Climmie Robinson, 1236 Chaffin St., was named in affidavits signed by Howard Lisk, district inspector for the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and Patrolman Orin C. Smith.

Robinson pleaded not guilty at arraignment Wednesday. He was represented by Atty. William S. Foulks.

Judge Chertoff, who convicted Robinson in a lengthy hearing, sentenced him to 30 days on the charge of making a false statement to obtain a permit and 10 days on the charge of operating an auto after his license had been suspended.

Lisk testified he was notified in July 1959 that Robinson's permit had been suspended by the Safety Responsibility Division of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles because of an unsatisfactory judgment returned against him as an aftermath of a traffic mishap in May of the same year.

Lisk said he later received instructions to confiscate Robinson's driver's license, but the defendant signed an affidavit that he had lost the permit. Lisk also charged that Robinson made a false statement in applying for a new operator's permit in August 1962.

Robinson originally was cited by Officer Smith Feb. 25 on a charge of crashing a traffic light at an East End intersection. He was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday.

Junior Editors Quiz on POINSETTIAS

ANSWER: What appear to be the large brilliant red flowers of this striking plant are not flowers at all, but special leaves called "bracts." The actual flowers are very tiny and are grouped together in the center of the bracts.

In 1828, the United States Minister to Mexico, Joel R. Poinsett, noticed these showy plants growing in Mexican gardens and introduced them to this country. Poinsettias make handsome outdoor shrubs and, when grown in a climate such as Florida's, can grow from two to 10 feet tall. This plant is very popular at Christmas. When potted, it can grow from one to four feet tall. Indoors, it thrives best where the temperature is kept even and, while in bloom, needs plenty of water. Some people with a "green thumb" for handling plants can keep poinsettias going from year to year, but generally the plants are raised by starting with cuttings in March.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a picture to tax your abilities as a colorist. There are four poinsettia blooms to be colored brilliant red while the geranium can be pink. Try to get a golden glow of firelight over the back with some contrasting color in the grandmother's dress and the girl's hair, which could be chestnut-color.

Shirley Floyd of Rock, Kan., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win $10, or the weekly grand prize of a set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.

Measles Vaccine OK'd

U.S. Grants License For Distribution Of 2 Forms

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: ON THE WANE? The government has granted licenses for general distribution of two forms of measles vaccine. One may be available in a day or so, just as the measles' season gets in full swing.

"This is one of our most significant advances in recent years toward decreasing or eliminating one of our most serious childhood diseases," said U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry.

At a news conference Thursday, Terry predicted "a very sharp decrease" in the disease next season.

There have been more than 4 million cases of measles each year in the United States, with 400 deaths, and the disease has been an even greater killer in foreign countries, he said.

With widespread use of the vaccine, Terry said it was possible the disease could be virtually eradicated within two years.

Chas. Pfizer & Co. received a license to market the inactivated $500,000 as president of Ford Motor Co. for an annual salary of $25,000 as secretary of defense.

NET WORTH: Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has estimated his financial worth at $1,278,200, mostly in common stocks and bonds.

The Pentagon announced that McNamara voluntarily gave the Senate Investigations subcommittee an up-to-date statement of his personal finances "because of newspaper reports that the committee's investigating staff is examining possible self-interest on the part of Pentagon officials in the award of the TFX (warplane) contract." There has been no suggestion in the hearings, however, that McNamara had a personal stake in the award of the potential $6.5 billion contract to General Dynamics Corp.

When McNamara joined the Cabinet in 1961, he gave up an annual salary and bonus totaling OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—After three days of free-wheeling discussion, churchmen considering merger of six major Protestant denominations say they are ready to tackle the major problems of consolidation.

The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, architect of the merger proposal that would unite 22 million Protestants, said the meeting concluded at Oberlin College Thursday was a success.

He observed that the extent of agreement among those attending amounted to "certainly more than I would have cared to predict before the meeting."

"I am encouraged because we got such a consensus," he said.

However, he continued, "because of the amount of consensus, no one should suppose this solves

The percentage of bond issues passed during 1962 increased in all three types of Ohio school districts.
